

Course Description for module 1: Fashion, Film and Transmedia Introduction

Subject area: Fashion, Film and Transmedia Introduction Activity: International module Prepared by: Ellen Riis, Assistant Professor Responsible: Louis Thonsgaard, Head of Studies ECTS points: 10 The module is project based in collaboration with the industry.		Course level: 3 rd year (5 th /6 th semester) Revised: November 2015 Type: Full-time studies
Purpose:	The student should: <ul style="list-style-type: none">• Acquire knowledge and understanding of the industries' requirements and systems within international trends in the global fashion, film and transmedia industry• Become able to act in an international market and play a key role in fashion films and transmedia productions
Knowledge:	The students should acquire knowledge and understanding of: <ul style="list-style-type: none">• Relevant film-, fashion- and transmedia theories and concepts• Entrepreneurship and marketing tools related to film production in the fashion industries• The importance of teamwork and benefits of cultural differences in a production team
Skills:	The student should be able to apply the knowledge and skills acquired as part of the course in contexts in the relevant industries: <ul style="list-style-type: none">• Partaking in a fashion film production• Partaking in a fashion transmedia production• Working on marketing and branding of fashion film and transmedia productions• Communicating appropriately in international contexts
Competences:	The student should: <ul style="list-style-type: none">• Be able to apply the knowledge and skills acquired as part of the course when acting in international production and marketing contexts• Understand their own competencies in terms of communicating and acting in different production teams

	<ul style="list-style-type: none">• Be able to reflect on own future learning needs within the subject area• Understand and be able to reflect on own learning process and progression
Main contents:	a) Creative Methods: Teamwork, networking, acknowledging and appreciating cultural diversity, and concept workshops b) Diving into Fashion: Fashion brands, the fashion scene today, and fashion business c) Diving into Film Production: Storytelling, producing, hands-on production and postproduction, production design I, fashion styling I, fashion film production, and fashion film color grading I e) Transmedia Introduction: Storytelling in transmedia, fashion marketing, and international fashion film marketing f) Fashion Film Business & Entrepreneurship: Fashion film business, fashion media marketing entrepreneurship I, and personal branding I
Pedagogical ideas and potential interdisciplinary activities:	Based on theory handed out as well as lectures/presentations delivered by the lecturer, students acquire general knowledge of the subject area. Based on the introduction to theory and the knowledge acquired during the course, students work on group projects that give them the opportunity to test the techniques and working methods studied as well as explore new methods. It is important that students control and reflectively document their project. Further, it is important that the students are conscious about the relevant distribution channels (e.g. fashion festivals). Lessons will be structured around specific brands within the fashion industry, and International case studies.
Requirements for students taking this module:	To ensure the best possible learning environment, the programme is open for applicants within fashion, film, media or related areas, and with at least two years of completed studies.
General information:	Learning resources as well as lists of materials and titles will be available on studynet.via.dk

	The course content may be subject to changes.
Examination/report:	The student will complete an exam during this module, which is graded using the Danish 7-point scale. The student will receive a diploma upon completion of the course.
Lecturers:	Anja Bisgaard Gaede, CEO and Co-founder, SPOTT Trends & Business Ellen Riis, Assistant Professor, VIA Film & Transmedia Henrik Højer, Assistant Professor, VIA Film & Transmedia Kim Magnusson, Owner and Producer, M&M Productions Martin Strandgaard, Owner and Fashion Film Editor, KLAP Film Max Rosborg, Director of Photography Per Pedersen, Deputy Worldwide Chief Creative Officer, Grey New York Representatives from international brands like JACK & JONES, ONLY, VERO MODA, hummel, ECCO, minimum, and Rains Susanne Thrane, Assistant Professor, VIA Design and Business Thomas Hoffmann, Creative Director, & Co. Viktor Sloth, Owner and Fashion Film Director, KLAP Film Lecturers can vary from semester to semester.

Course Description for module 2: Fashion Film

Subject area: Fashion Film Activity: International module Prepared by: Ellen Riis, Assistant Professor Responsible: Louis Thonsgaard, Head of Studies ECTS points: 10 The module is project based in collaboration with the industry.	Course level: 3rd year (5th/6th semester) Revised: November 2015 Type: Full-time studies
Purpose:	The student should: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Acquire knowledge and understanding of the industries' requirements and systems within international trends in the global fashion, film and transmedia industry • Become able to act in an international market and play a key role in fashion films and transmedia productions
Knowledge: Skills: Competences:	The students should acquire knowledge and understanding of: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Relevant film -, fashion - and transmedia theories and concepts • Entrepreneurship and marketing tools related to film production in the fashion industries • The importance of teamwork and benefits of cultural differences in a production team The student should be able to apply the knowledge and skills acquired as part of the course in contexts in the relevant industries: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Partaking in a fashion film production • Partaking in a fashion transmedia production • Working on marketing and branding of fashion film and transmedia productions • Communicating appropriately in international contexts The student should: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Be able to apply the knowledge and skills acquired as part of the course when acting in international production and marketing contexts • Understand their own competencies in terms of communicating and acting in different production teams • Be able to reflect on own future learning needs within the subject area

	<ul style="list-style-type: none">• Understand and be able to reflect on own learning process and progression
Main contents:	a) Fashion Film Analysis: Fashion film analysis & storytelling, fashion film trends, art film analysis, integration of storytelling and production design, and visual conceptualisation b) International Fashion Film Production: International market understanding I, client handling I, production design II, fashion styling II, pre-production, production and post-production, and color grading II c) The Processes in Fashion Film Production: From client brief, final implementation of production, preparation of circulation, and distribution plans
Pedagogical ideas and potential interdisciplinary activities:	Based on theory handed out as well as lectures/presentations delivered by the lecturer, students should acquire general knowledge of the subject area. Based on the introduction to theory and the knowledge acquired during the course, students work on group projects that give them the opportunity to test the techniques and working methods studied as well as explore new methods. It is important that students control and reflectively document their project. Further, it is important that the students are conscious about the relevant distribution channels (e.g. fashion festivals). Lessons will be structured around specific brands within the fashion industry, and international case studies.
Requirements for students taking this module:	To ensure the best possible learning environment, the programme is open for applicants within fashion, film, media or related areas, and with at least two years of completed studies.
General information:	Learning resources as well as lists of materials and titles will be available on studynet.via.dk. The course content may be subject to changes.
Examination/report:	The student will complete an exam during this module, which is graded using the Danish 7-point scale. The student will receive a diploma upon completion of the course.

Lecturers:	Anders Rægaard Nielsen, Media Manager JACK & JONES/ SELECTED/ ADPT Anja Bisgaard Gaede, CEO and Co-founder, SPOTT Trends & Business Carsten Sparwath, International Line Producer Ellen Riis, Assistant Professor, VIA Film & Transmedia Martin Strandgaard, Owner and Fashion Film Editor, KLAP Film Rasmus Frøkjær, International Location Manager Representatives from international brands like JACK & JONES, ONLY, VERO MODA, hummel, ECCO, minimum, AND Rains Rina Hansen, Global Manager Hummel Viktor Sloth, Owner and Fashion Film Director, KLAP Film Lecturers can vary from semester to semester.
--------------------------	---

Course Description for module 3: Fashion Trans- media

Subject area: Fashion Transmedia Activity: International module Prepared by: Ellen Riis, Assistant Professor Responsible: Louis Thonsgaard, Head of Studies ECTS points: 10 The module is project based in collaboration with the industry.	Course level: 3rd year (5th/6th semester) Revised: November 2015 Type: Full-time studies
Purpose:	The student should: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Acquire knowledge and understanding of the industries' requirements and functions within international trends in the global fashion, film and transmedia industry • Become able to act in an international market and play a key role in fashion films and transmedia productions
Knowledge:	The students should acquire knowledge and understanding of: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Relevant film -, fashion - and transmedia theories and concepts • Entrepreneurship and marketing tools related to film- and transmedia production in the fashion industries • The importance of teamwork and benefits of cultural differences in a production team
Skills:	The student should be able to apply the knowledge and skills acquired as part of the course in contexts in the relevant industries: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Partaking in a fashion film production • Developing and partaking in a fashion transmedia production • Working on marketing and branding of fashion film and transmedia productions • Communicating appropriately in international contexts
Competences:	The student should: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Be able to apply the knowledge and skills acquired as part of the course when acting in international production and marketing contexts • Understand their own competencies in terms of communicating and acting in different production teams

	<ul style="list-style-type: none">• Be able to reflect on own future learning needs within the subject area• Understand and be able to reflect on own learning process and progression
Main contents:	a) Fashion Transmedia Analysis: Fashion transmedia analysis & storytelling, and fashion transmedia trends b) Fashion Transmedia Business and Entrepreneurship: Fashion transmedia business, fashion media marketing entrepreneurship II, and personal branding II c) International Fashion Transmedia Production: International market understanding II, client handling II, pre-visualisation, fashion transmedia pre-production, production and post-production, and international fashion transmedia marketing
Pedagogical ideas and potential interdisciplinary activities:	Based on theory handed out as well as lectures/presentations delivered by the lecturer, students should acquire general knowledge of the subject area. Based on the introduction to theory and the knowledge acquired during the course, students work on group projects that give them the opportunity to test the techniques and working methods studied as well as explore new methods. It is important that students control and reflectively document their project. Further, it is important that the students are conscious about the relevant distribution channels (e.g. fashion festivals). Lessons will be structured around specific brands within the fashion industry, and International case studies.
Requirements for students taking this module:	To ensure the best possible learning environment, the programme is open for applicants within fashion, film, media or related areas, and with at least two years of completed studies.
General information:	Learning resources as well as lists of materials and titles will be available on studynet.via.dk. The course content may be subject to changes.
Examination/report:	The student will complete an exam during this module, which is graded using the Danish 7-point scale. The student will receive a diploma upon completion of the course.

Lecturers:	Anders Rægaard Nielsen, Media Manager JACK & JONES/ SELECTED/ ADPT Asta Wellejus, International Transmedia Producer Ellen Riis, Assistant Professor, VIA Film & Transmedia Henrik Højer, Assistant Professor, VIA Film & Transmedia Max Giovagnoli, Transmedia Professor, IED Rome Rina Hansen, Global Manager Hummel Representatives from international brands like JACK & JONES, ONLY, VERO MODA, hummel, ECCO, minimum, and Rains Stine Johansen, Cand.it. Interactive Digital Media, Transmedia Storytelling Lecturers can vary from semester to semester.