

How the use the mobile ethical lab game board ?

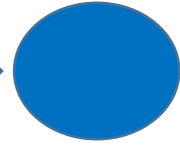

The complete game consist of 4 parts. Depending on the time and the reason why you are playing the game, you can decide for how many parts you play.

1. You first choose an exposure (colored spheres) according to the subject you want to explore. Every exposure comes with a reflection. After the reflection you can do the statements exposure based on the corresponding colors on the game board. You can choose the statements in order of colors or by color (theme) or you can use a dice with colors.

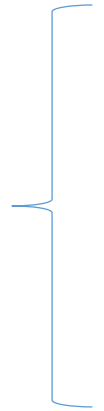

This way you can go over the entire gameboard and play .

2. If you don't have enough time to play the full game , you can play each exposure separately or combine some parts.
3. If you play the game in different groups you can place an object on the board. This allows you to see exactly where the groups are within game.

Exposure about diversity

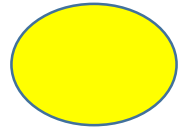

Statements, the color matches the subject

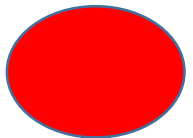

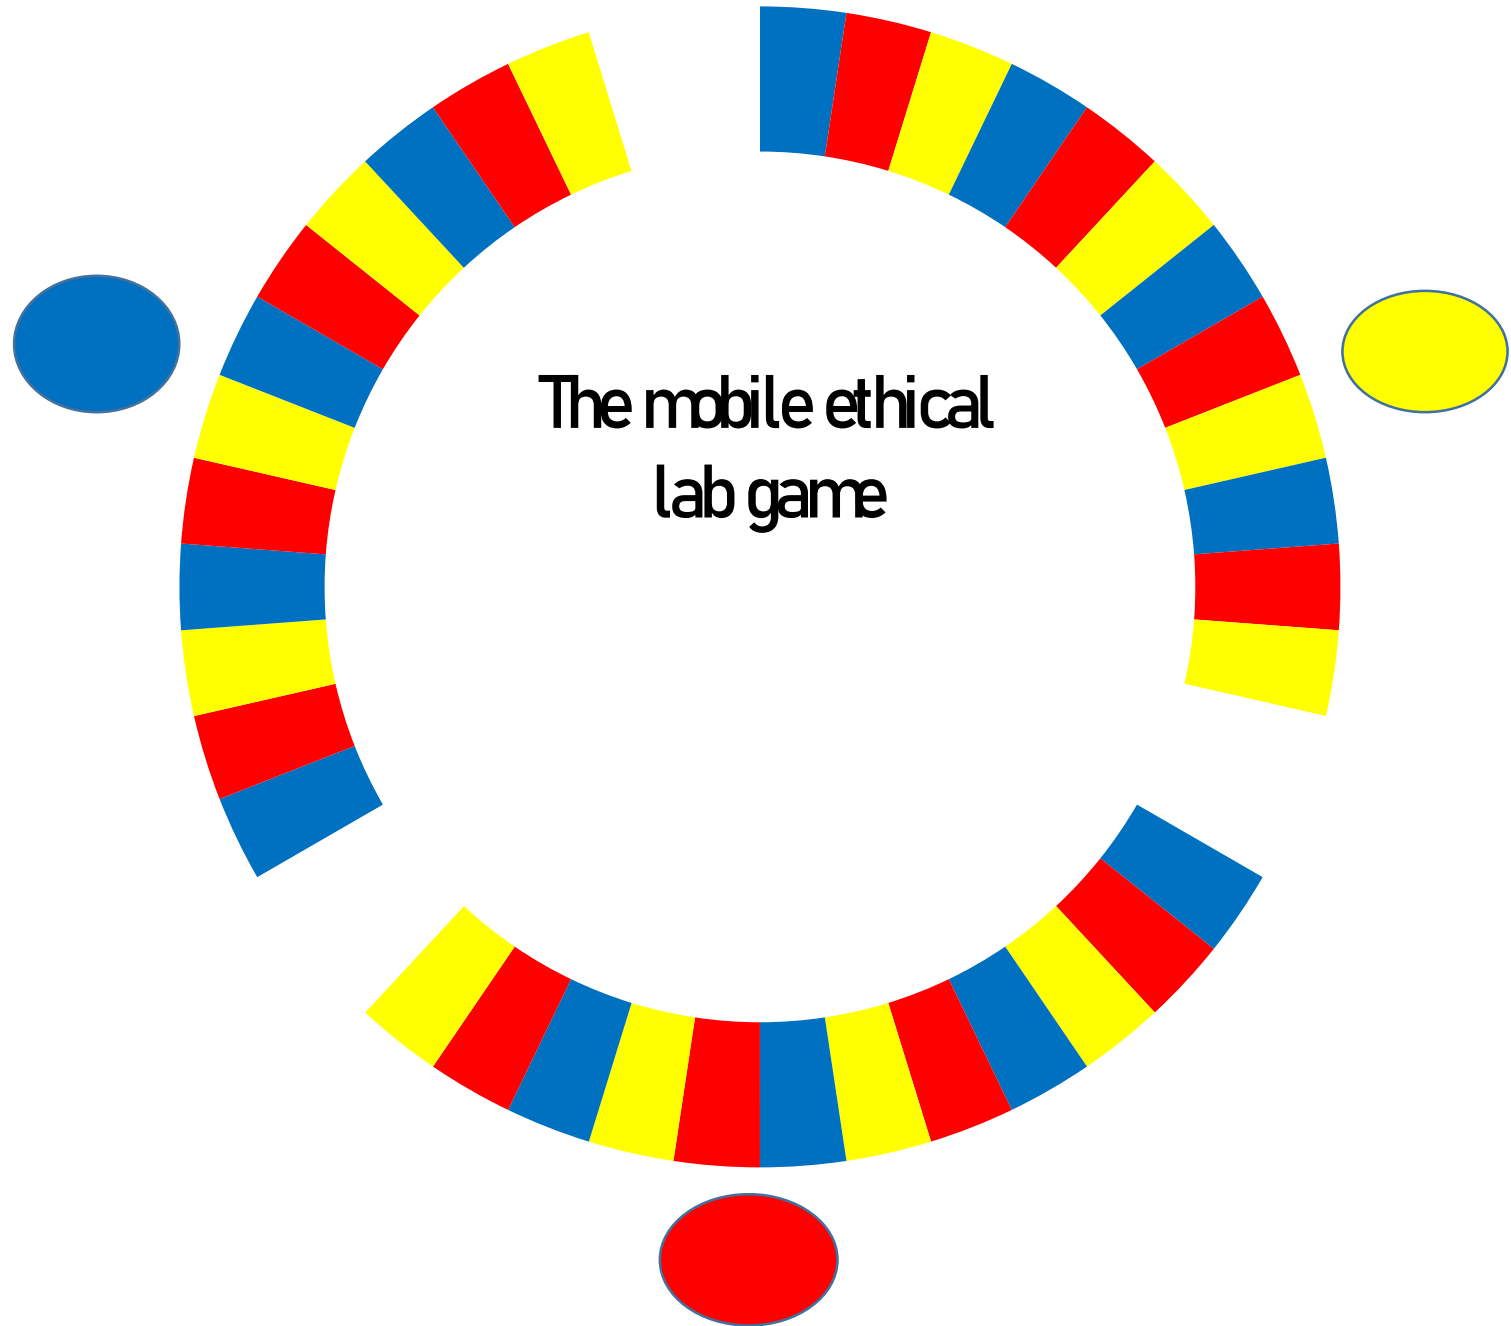

The mobile ethical lab game

Exposure about hospitality

Exposure about communication

The mobile ethical lab game