

You can download our Methodology Book for free on our website. In the book you can find the following:

Case studie 1. The Inclusive-oriented Enviroment. How to feel at Home

Case studie 2. The hospitable enviroment: "How to meet the other as the other"

Case studie 3. The inclusive-oriented eviroment. How to establish studygroups.

Case studie 4. Shift in Arenas. How to start the Semester.

Case studie 5. Supporting the switch from one Arena to another. Welcoming ceremony in Holstero as usual and as a test.

Movies I video'erne kan du se hvordan du anvender case studierne værktøjer.

Review: Hospitality

Review: Eksponeringsmetoder

Position paper.

The tools of the project can help you and your institution/organisation to encourage hospitable environments in different ways. The tools are relevant for you if you work in a primary school, in youth education, in higher education, in the health care sector or if you are in other ways engaged in meaningful relations to others.

Five education institutions, ranging from primary schools to universities has worked together in this project.

Students does not always feel at home during their studies. MEL explores the concept of hospitality, as a relation between people, with an experimental approach of desk and case studies.

MEL suggests, that hospitality is useful in all contexts, where people meet.

Hospitality is an attitude and relation that necessitates some form of exposure of both the teacher and the student.

Visit our website:

<https://en.via.dk/global-partnerships/erasmusplus-projects/global-hospitality> and explore how you can develop your ability to meet others in an hospitable way.

Mobile Ethical Laboratory MEL Global Hospitality

